Acknowledgement

To begin with, I owe deep gratitude to the Almighty Allah for His blessings enabled me to complete the Thesis.

I feel privileged to be able to complete my study under the able supervision of Dr. Mostafizur Rahman, Assistant Professor, Department of Arabic, Assam University, Silchar. His invaluable guidance, precious advice and co-operation remained with me as a bacon, while I was working on my topic. He has not only spent his valuable time in improving this work but also guided me to have an overall better understanding of the subject. I am greatly indebted to him for bearing with my mistakes.

I would like to convey my gratitude and regards to my respected teacher Dr. Ataur Rahman, Head, Islamic Studies (Persian & Arabic) of Cotton College, whose constant support has been inspiring me from the very beginning of my master degree classes till the end of my research work.

I would like to record my deep sense of respect and regards to my teachers, most notably, H.O.D. Prof. Abdul Rasak T, Prof. A. M. Bhuiya, Dr. Ashfaq Ahmad of Assam University, Silchar; Prof. Raina Khanam Mazumdar, Dr. Abdul Majeed Nadwi of Gauhati University, Dr. Mujeebur Rahman of JNU, Dr. Bakshi Hazrat Ali Ahmed of Abhyapuri College for their valuable suggestions and assistances to achieve the goal.

My due thanks to the staffs and other members of Rabindra Granthagar (University Central Library), Assam University and many other libraries in and outside the state particularly, Jamia Millia Islamia, J. N. U., University of Delhi, EFLU etc.

In this way I am grateful to a host of my colleague friends and well-wishers who provided me with different materials, information, and assistance in various steps of this work, notably, Abdullah, Research Scholar, JNU, Md. Raizuddin Alom and Md. Jahirul Islam, Guest Faculty of Gauhati University.

Last but not least, I owe my debt to my parents for their constant encouragement and motivation which have definitely helped me in completing the thesis.
