ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The present work is the fruition of the constant support and encouragement of several people whose consistent cooperation helped me in completing the work. Mentioning all of them is nearly an impossible task. However, a prominent few among them may well not be missed out.

The study has been carried out under inspiring guidance of Professor G. Ram, Department of Sociology, Assam University Silchar. I am extremely grateful and indebted to him as, besides his guidance and moral support, he was a constant source of inspiration and encouragement throughout this work. I take this opportunity to place on record my gratitude to him. I am thankful to Prof. B. K. Behera, Head, Department of Sociology, Assam University, Silchar and to all the teaching and non-teaching staff of the department, for their cooperation and support extended during the course of the work.

Present work would have been difficult to complete without the help and cooperation of my respondents from both the villages and Golaghat town. I express my sincere thanks and gratitude to the villagers of Namtemera and Baghedhara and the Mishing families of Golaghat town for their cooperation with me during the collection of data. Without their cooperation the data base for the study could not have been built. I also extend my gratitude to the headmen, one each, of the two villages for their support in the field work. I am also thankful to Mr. Monjit Pegu, Mr. Ajit Loying and Mr. Dhonesh Kr. Loying who helped me a lot during the field work.

At last but not least, I can't be oblivious of my indebtedness to my family members for their constant inspiration and emotional support throughout the work.
